SENSATIONAL COTTON DECLINE

DROP OF $5.20 A BALE IN NEW YORK BY ROUTING OF THE BULLS.

RALLY DELAYED TILL LATE

Quiet Market Is Expected for the Coming Week and Prices Expected to be More Generally Influenced.

New York, Jan. 14.—The big bull campaign in cotton definitely collapsed today. The most spectacular decline seen in a week of erratic recessions. Reports freely circulated in the trade, after the close of the market, had it that the position of the leading southern bull has been completely undermined by the continued liquidation which has been in progress since early in the year.

At the low point today, New York contracts showed a decline of from $5.20 to $5.60 a bale from the closing prices of the night previous, which was a break of from $6.10 to $6.50 a bale from the high price of the day and $13.35 to $14.25 a bale from the high point of the season. May contracts touched 13.70c late in the afternoon.

Make Elaborate Gifts.

The bull market has lasted for over a year. At the height of the campaign it was estimated that E. G. Scales of Texas, the leader, had accumulated paper profits of $10,000,000 for the season. As a Christmas present, he is said to have given $10,000 to one of his favorite brokers and another accepted story has it that he had given a million dollars in cash to one of his brothers.

His heaviest holdings were in May cotton, and his friends were generally believed at one time to control contracts calling for the delivery of fully 1,000,000 bales during that month.

Time Ripe for Raid.

The situation had developed, before the beginning of the decline, into a threat of the greatest squeeze of shorts ever recorded, but other bulls who had followed Mr. Scales' lead decided the time was ripe for a bear raid.

One after another the big accounts

began to come into the market. The Scales party was said to have its cotton margined down to 10 cents a pound, and it was confidently asserted that its members would never abandon their position.

The facts have proven, however, that the continued pressure was too heavy. Today it was announced Mr. Scales was transferring his holdings to the leading bear interests. Smaller operators were hard nipped, but it is believed the larger bulls liquidated above their average buying price for the season.

Rally Comes Late

As soon as the news spread that an agreement had been reached between the conflicting interests, the market received aggressive support, closing at from 20 to 30 points up for the low mark today.

A better feeling prevailed in the trade tonight and it is thought that a quiet market may be expected for the coming week, with prices more generally influenced by legitimate demand and support.

After the official close May contracts changed hands at 14.10c, compared with 13.70c, the low point of the day. The mark at which the bears were said to have taken the bull holdings is 13 1-2c for May.

Miners Narrowly Escape.

Trinidad, Colo., Jan. 14.—Fire, starting from a match dropped in the straw of the mule stable, cut off three hundred miners from the shaft of No. 2 mine of the Colorado Fuel and Iron company today. Before the men could be warned, the shaft was choked with smoke but all the miners escaped safely through the connecting workings of the No. 1 mine of the Colorado Fuel and Iron company on one side, and the Rainey mine, whose shaft is on the other side of the mountain four miles from the burning mine.

Boston Recount Asked.

Boston, Jan. 14.—Two petitions asking recounts of the votes cast in Tuesday's election, by which former Mayor John F. Fitzgerald was apparently elected mayor for four years by a plurality of 1,415 over James J. Storrow, his nearest opponent, were filed with the election commissioners today. The recount will probably be held next week.

Shot by a Woman.

Enid, Okla., Jan. 14.—Shot in the breast by the inmate of a Second street resort, Henry Carr, formerly of Wellington, Kan., was seriously wounded early this morning. Jennie Cowan was placed under arrest. The shooting is the culmination of a night's carousal.

COMMISSIONER'S RATE HEARING

GENERAL AUDITOR SEELIG OF THE KATY ON STAND YESTERDAY.

CROSS-EXAMINED BY WEST

Commissioner Watson After Facts and Declares He Is Going to Get Them If There Is Any Chance

Guthrie, Okla., Jan. 14.—When W. L. Seeling of St. Louis, general auditor of the Katy Railroad, took the witness stand in the Corporation Commission's freight rate hearing today he was questioned by Commissioner Watson as to an alleged agreement between representatives of various lines represented here concerning testimony given at the hearing yesterday. The commission had cited several roads for contempt, for failure to comply with its accounting order. Railroad representatives testified they could not furnish the information called for in the commission's blanks, and then make oath to its accuracy since some of the earning divisions between State and interstate business would have to be arbitrarily made. The case against the Katy was dismissed upon promise of Auditor Seeling to furnish the information.

According to Commissioner Watson, it was reported to the commission this morning that following yesterday's hearing there was considerable criticism in the hotel lobbies last night for what was termed a violation of an agreement about the character of the testimony to be given.

Auditor Seeling disclaimed knowledge of an agreement, saying that he did on yesterday what he thought was best, and that if the other representatives were inclined to criticize him, the matter was beyond his "What the commission wants are the facts," said Commissioner Watson, "and we are going to get them if there is a way."

The railroads deny that an agreement was made with the view to giving false testimony.

Auditor Seeling was on the stand most of the day under cross-examination by Attorney General West concerning the eleven commodity rate orders. He stated that the capitalization for the Katy in Oklahoma was about $65,000 per mile, par value would not exceed $50,000 per mile.

The bonds representing the indebtedness, he said were $40,600 and the stocks $24,400, per mile. The Attorney General then produced a statement filed with the State Tax Board by the Katy's engineers showing that the estimated cost of replacing value in Oklahoma averaged $16,400 per mile.

The same figures, Auditor Seeling said, would apply to the line in other states. When asked how he accounted for the difference between the market value of the road and the replacement value, as shown by the engineers' return, the auditor stated it was due principally to reorganization of the property when it was taken from under a receivership years ago. He said that the thought the road would sell for $50,000 per mile.

Fairbanks in Turkey.

Constantinople, Jan. 14.—A reception was held in the American embassy here this afternoon in honor of former vice president Fairbanks and Mrs. Fairbanks. The function was largely attended by American residents in Constantinople. Mr. and Mrs. Fairbanks will leave for Athens next Tuesday.

Opium Is Seized.

San Francisco, Jan. 14.—Opium valued at $4,000 was seized today by customs inspectors on the Pacific liner Siberia, which arrived yesterday from the Orient. The drug was contained in 140 five-ounce tins. This seizure brings the valuation of opium confiscated at Pacific coast points within the last ten days to $7,000.

GIVES CREDIT TO BALLINGER

IN HIS CONVERSATION MESSAGE PRESIDENT TAFT IGNORES PINCHOT.

$30,000,000 FOR SETTLERS

Recommends the Continuation of Irrigation Projects in Semi-Arid Sections—Approves Water Plans.

Washington, Jan. 14.—In a message full of specific suggestions President Taft today put up to congress the question of enacting laws designed to amply safeguard the National resources. The message made practically no reference to the recent upheavals growing out of the Ballinger-Pinchot controversy, ignores the former Chief Forester entirely and gives all credit for the conservation recommendations of the message to Secretary Ballinger of the Interior Department. He says his recommendations are "really an epitome of the recommendations of the Secretary of the Interior in respect to the future conservation of the public domain in his present annual report."

Recommendations Made by Taft.

These recommendations, as discussed in the President's message, are: For the conservation of public lands; for the safeguarding of power sites along rivers in the public domain; for the validating of the withdrawals from entry made by the Secretary of the Interior under such disputed authority as he now possesses; for a detailed classification of public lands according to their use; for the disposition of the agricultural and mineral resources of the same portions of the public lands separately; for the rapid completion of the reclamation projects which are now under way; for a $30,000,000 bond issue to finish and extend these reclamation projects; for the extension of the activities of the forest service; for the conservation of the soil and or the carrying out of inland waterway improvements on an extensive scale.

Bills Drafted by Ballinger.

President Taft inform Congress that the foregoing recommendations are embodied in bills which Secretary Ballinger has drafted and which are at the disposal of congress.

Outlook in Congress.

It is presumed that congress will promptly act on the recommendations which the president makes. If it shows no disposition to act at this session the president can easily hurry action by simply calling attention to the inactivity. If congress should act promptly, but at the same time legislate in such a manner as to fail to give ample protection, the president will still be in a position to avert evil by voting insincere legislation. So the friends of the conservation movement hope that if the president stands firm and the public keeps a watchful eye on congress the American conservation movement, which up to this point has been one principally of educating the country, will find consummation in this session of congress.

The message is generally commended and an eagerness exists among congressmen friendly to the conservation movement to study the bills which Secretary Ballinger has drafted to carry out this important step forward.

Text of President Taft's Special Message.

President Taft's special message on conservation of natural resources sent to congress is as follows:

To the Senate and the House of Representatives: In my annual message, I reserved the subject of the conservation of our natural resources for consideration in a special message, as follows:

"In several department there is presented the necessity for legislation looking to the further conservation of our National resources, and the subject is one of such importance as to require a more detailed and extended discussion than can be entered upon in this communication. For this reason I shall take an early opportunity to send a special message."

HENRY J. BROWN

Henry J. Brown, J. P.

Judge Henry J. Brown, authorizes his announcement as a candidate for re-election to the office of Justice of the Peace of the precinct of the city of Ada.

Judge Brown's official record, statistically considered, taking the results of the verdicts of his court and the appeals therefrom, is so notably praiseworthy, that at a latter time
the actual figures shall be quoted.
Suffice to say, he is a crackerjack, popular with the bar and the people,
an all wool, yard wide Democrat and a citizen of much moral and public enterprise; for these reasons, which are ample, but also, because he is the father of Marvin Brown,

PLENTY TO ADVISE.

Balky Horse Starts in Good Shape
When He Does Start.

One horse of a team hitched to a loaded wagon on Broadway this afternoon balked, refusing absolutely to budge one single foot forward—
and for several minutes kept a crowd of sightseers busy handing out advice to the driver as to how to manage the stubborn animal. One fellow was beside the horse with a whip. A loafer yelled at him to "whip him on the feet" and another advised "slap him in the face." A mixture of these suggestions started the boss and he tore down the street with a motion similar to that employed when the harness is removed and he is turned in the pasture.

HAS DIVULGED NOTHING.

Dr. Schell Admits, Though, He Received Lamphere Confession.

Burlington, Iowa, Jan. 14.—After refusing for several hours to make a statement regarding the alleged confession of Ray Lamphere, Dr.
Schell announced that he had never repeated to any person the admissions made to him by the convicted man.

"About the first of the year," he said, "I was interviewed by the representative of a metropolitan paper who sought to elicit the story related to me by Lamphere."

"Reasons were advanced why I should make public any information given me, in the several conversations with him; I declined to talk at that time and later consulted with several ministers and laymen as to my duty in connection with my knowledge of the affair. I became convinced both from their advice and the dictates of my own conscience that any admission made to me was sacred and I have since at all times refused to divulge any part of the conversations."

The confession as alleged to have been made by Lamphere and published in the St. Louis Post-Dispatch yesterday was repeated to the minister, and he reiterated that he had not divulged any such confession to any person.

NORTH ADA BOX SUPPER.

Fairly Well Attended and Proceeds Amount to $15.

The box supper at North Ada Baptist church was very well attended and was a success, the net proceeds amounting to $15.00. Five well filled boxes were bought and sent by the good ladies to a needy family on 4th street. The Benevolent association of Ada should look after them. The proceeds of this supper is appropriated to the liquidation of a small debt against the incidental department of the church. We thank the people who aided us by buying the boxes, and breathe a prayer for the blessings of God to attend them through this year. O. E. FOWLER.

NICE

sage to congress on the subject of the improvement of our waterways; upon the reclamation and irrigation of arid, semi-arid and swamp lands; upon the preservation of our forests and the reforesting of suitable areas; upon the reclassification of the public domain with a view of separating from agricultural settlement, mineral, coal and phosphorous lands and sites belonging to the government bordering on streams suitable for the utilization of waterpower."

Public Domain in 1860.

In 1860 we had a public domain of 1,055,911,288 acres. We have now 731,354,081 acres, confined largely to mountain ranges and semi-arid and arid plains. We have in addition 368,035,975 acres of land in Alaska.

The public lands were during the earliest administrations treated as a National asset for the liquidation of the public debt and as a source of reward for our soldiers and sailors. Later on they were donated in large amounts in aid of the construction of wagon roads and railways in order to open up regions in the West then almost inaccessible. All the principal land statutes were enacted more than a quarter of a century ago. The homestead act, the pre-emption and timber culture act, the coal land and the mining acts were among these.

The rapid disposition of the public lands under the early statutes and the lax methods of distribution prevailing, due, I think, to the belief that the lands should rapidly pass into private ownership, give rise to the impression that the public domain was legitimate prey for the unscrupulous and that it was not contrary to good morals to circumvent the land laws.

Fraudulent Land Deals.

This prodigal manner of disposition resulted in the passing of large areas of valuable land and many of our National resources into the hands of persons who felt little or no responsibility for promoting the National welfare through their development. The truth is that title to millions of acres of public lands was fraudulently obtained and that the right to recover a large part of such lands for the government long since ceased by reason of statutes of limitation.

There has developed in recent years a deep concern in the public mind respecting the preservation and proper use of our natural resources. This has been particularly directed toward the conservation of the resources on the public domain.

The problem is how to save and how to utilize, how to conserve and still to develop, for no sane person can contend that it is for the common good that nature's blessing are only for unborn generations.

POKER AND JURISPRUDENCE

Prisoner Who Passed Is Called by the Judge—Two Years.

San Antonio, Tex., Jan. 17.—Poker and jurisprudence met in fine reparation and Willie Griffin got the worst of it. Willie, an ebullient citizen of the dolce-far-niente type had pleaded guilty to a charge of burglary and Judge Dwyer of the Thirty-Seventh District Court had just made the wholly superfluous remark that Willie could state whatever reason there might be why sentence should not be passed upon him. For a few seconds Willie was at a loss for an answer. The situation called for a set of ideas perhaps entirely new to his gray matter. But Willie knew of an expression in poker that seemed to fit the emergency. "Jedge," he said scratching his head, "I reckon I passes." Judge Dwyer not wholly innocent of the game himself suppressed a smile. "I will call you," he said "and give you two years."

Willie acknowledged that he didn't hold anything as good as the Judge, and accompanied Deputy Sheriff Joe Dwyer most willingly to the nether regions.

"I don't nothin' about dat callin' business, but dat jedge sho did tell me ter go to de pen for two whole long years, I'se plum glad he didn't raise me."

Hot Cross Buns.

A quarter-cup butter, a quarter-cup sugar, a quarter-teaspoonful salt, one cup milk, one yeast cake dissolved in quarter-cup lukewarm water; add sufficient flour to make a stiff batter and beat well; let rise over night and in morning add half-teaspoonful cinnamon, quarter-teaspoonful nutmeg, two beaten eggs, half-cup raisins; knead until elastic; let rise, mold, rise and bake; make cross of icing on buns.

Turkish Candy.

Cook together until it threads when dropped into cold water, two cupfuls granulated sugar, one-half cupful corn sirup and one-half cupful of hot water. When it reaches the thread stage pour over the beaten whites of two eggs and beat until it commences to grain. Add any kind of nut meats, pour into greased square pans and cut in squares when cool, or make into a loaf, and slice.

Baked Tomatoes.

Cut out centers of tomatoes, chop with a few bread crumbs, add celery enough to flavor, also a little parsley, butter, salt, pepper. Fry two slices bacon brown and cut in small pieces and add. Fill tomatoes and place in baking pan with bits of butter. Bake slowly one-half hour. Fine served with fish or game.

Baked Canned Corn.

Take a can of corn, divide it in two layers, putting cracker crumbs and bits of butter between each layer. Cover the corn with a pint of milk and bake half an hour.

Sugar Help.

A vanilla bean kept in the sugar box will impart a delicious flavor to the sugar.

For Millionaires Only

"Now I knew in a general way that in order to put money in a bank you've got to be known and give your pedigree and look respectable and all that, and I hated to approach a bank without any sort of credentials. Therefore I went to the business manager of a certain magazine which occasionally prints pieces that I write and asked him what I'd better do."

"Simplest thing in the world," said he. "I'll give you a note to our bank."

"That sounded fine to me. He wrote me the note and I started for the bank a good deal tickled over how easy the little depositing proceeding had been made."

"The bank to which I had the note is in Wall street. I asked the uniformed man who was standing around where I'd find the receiving teller's window, and he pointed that window out to me. I got into line and watched the teller take in money."

"I must own that I was a bit stalled to note the great size of some of the deposits he was receiving. Why, fellows were giving the money to him by the satchelful. But I had my note in my pocket, and I remained complacent enough with that consciousness."

"When I reached the receiving teller I passed in my note, and the receiving teller, a decidedly civil young man, opened it and read it. Then he looked at me, after which he read the note again, this time with a sort of puzzled expression on his countenance. I didn't see why the receiving teller should be puzzled over such a simple matter. But puzzled he seemed. He rang a bell and the uniformed man who'd directed me to that window appeared."

"Show this gentleman to the office of the cashier," said the receiving teller to the uniformed man, at the same time regarding me with a pleasant smile; and the uniformed man led me down the passageway and took me behind a railing where there was a handsome gray-haired gentleman sitting at a desk."

"The handsome gray-haired gentleman received me cordially and invited me to be seated. I handed him my note, which the receiving teller had returned to me, and he leaned back in his chair and read it carefully. Then he, too, looked puzzled after he'd read the note a second time. Then he looked at me pleasantly over the tops of his spectacles."

"Ahem!" said the handsome gray-haired gentleman, not disagreeably, but in a nice, bankerlike way. "Might I—er—inquire, Mr. Penphist, without seeming to be unduly inquisitive, as to how—er—large a—er—balance you would usually be carrying?"

"Well, that was a civil enough question—nothing inquisitive about it."

"Why, sir," I said to the handsome gray-haired gentleman, "I am opening an account with a matter of some $350, but I shall no doubt make some additions to that within the next few months, and probably I shall carry a balance of—well, say, $500 or $600 right along."

"The kindly cashier with the gray hair fairly beamed upon me."

"Er—just so, just so," said he twiddling his thumbs. "We feel complimented, Mr. Penphist, we really do, that you should have come to us. And it is unfortunate—er—really—unfortunate that we are so utterly lacking in facilities for taking care of accounts of such a character."

"You see, Mr. Penphist, our institution is of—er—a sort of special character. It is used as a depository by— Well, perhaps I should put it in a more clear manner. I say to you quite in confidence, you understand, Mr. Penphist, but we have only 1,600 depositors on our books, and these 1,600 depositors' aggregate balances amount all the time to a matter of one hundred and ten millions of dollars."

"Well, that was about enough. I saw the light then. I'd drifted into a millionaire's bank on the careless credentials of a business manager who'd written me that note no doubt in a thoughtless mood."

"The gray-haired cashier acted badly about it. He recommended a fine bank to me—one that combines perfect responsibility with the necessary facilities for handling accounts like—er—yours, Mr. Penphist," he added.

"For all the cashier's niceness I walked out of there into the cold gray light of Wall street feeling like a good deal of a human caterpillar."

"I didn't go to the bank recommended to me by the cashier. Didn't have the nerve to visit any more banks. I've got $62 left now of the $350, but I'm going to use that as a nest egg, and maybe some day even yet, I'll have a bank account."

REAL ESTATE and FIRE INSURANCE

Advice

We have recently established in the News Building a REAL ESTATE, INSURANCE and LOAN AGENCY and active and constant attention will be given to all business entrusted to our care. We propose to line up our agency along with the growth and advancement of the city, and we want to make your business acquaintance.

Real Estate

We make a specialty of PUSHING property listed with our agency. We do not make a note of it on a memorandum, and forget it, but use printers ink to promote its early and sure sale. It pays to advertise. We preach that sort of doctrine and practice it as well. Property listed with us will be advertised, and if there is anything doing at all in the real estate transfers we are busy too. We have at the present date some pretty bargains in Ada stuff which you may see advertised in another column of this issue of the News. If you want to sell list with us today.

Insurance

The WEAVER FIRE INSURANCE AGENCY was the first established in Ada, and during these nearly 10 years every claim has been promptly adjusted, to the entire satisfaction of the policy holder. This is not a bad record. This is true because only the best and strongest companies have been represented. Among these are: The Royal, New York Underwriters, the Niagara, and the Phenix. These are as strong as the Rock of Gibraltar. PROMPTNESS is the watch-word. You can make no mistake by selecting any of these to carry your risk.

DROP OF $5.20 A BALE IN NEW YORK BY ROUTING OF THE BULLS.

RALLY DELAYED TILL LATE

Quiet Market Is Expected for the Coming Week and Prices Expected to be More Generally Influenced.

New York, Jan. 14.—The big bull campaign in cotton definitely collapsed today as the most spectacular decline seen in a week of erratic recessions. Reports freely circulated in the trade, after the close of the market, had it that the position of the leading southern bull has been completely undermined by the continued liquidation which has been in progress since early in the year.

At the low point today, New York contracts showed a decline of from $5.20 to $5.60 a bale from the closing prices of the night previous, which was a break of from $6.10 to $6.50 a bale from the high price of the day and $13.35 to $14.25 a bale from the high point of the season. May contracts touched 13.70c late in the afternoon.

Make Elaborate Gifts.
The bull market has lasted for over a year. At the height of the campaign it was estimated that E. G. Scales of Texas, the leader, had accumulated paper profits of $10,000,000 for the season. As a Christmas present, he is said to have given $10,000 to one of his favorite brokers and another accepted story has it that he had given a million dollars in cash to one of his brothers. His heaviest holdings were in May cotton, and his friends were generally believed at one time to control contracts calling for the delivery of fully 1,000,000 bales during that month.

Time Ripe for Raid.
The situation had developed, before the beginning of the decline, into a threat of the greatest squeeze of shorts ever recorded, but other bulls who had followed Mr. Scales' lead decided the time was ripe for a bear raid.

One after another the big accounts

began to come into the market. The Scales party was said to have its cotton margined down to 10 cents a pound, and it was confidently asserted that its members would never abandon their position.

The facts have proven, however, that the continued pressure was too heavy. Today it was announced Mr. Scales was transferring his holdings to the leading bear interests. Smaller operators were hard nipped, but it is believed the larger bulls liquidated above their average buying price for the season.

Rally Comes Late.
As soon as the news spread that an agreement had been reached between the conflicting interests, the market received aggressive support, closing at from 20 to 30 points up for the low mark today.

A better feeling prevailed in the trade tonight and it is thought that a quiet market may be expected for the coming week, with prices more generally influenced by legitimate demand and support.

After the official close May contracts changed hands at 14.10c, compared with 13.70c, the low point of the day. The mark at which the bears were said to have taken the bull holdings is 13 1-2c for May.

Miners Narrowly Escape.

Trinidad, Colo., Jan. 14.—Fire, starting from a match dropped in the straw of the mule stable, cut off three hundred miners from the shaft of No. 2 mine of the Colorado Fuel and Iron company today. Before the men could be warned, the shaft was choked with smoke but all the miners escaped safely through the connecting workings of the No. 1 mine of the Colorado Fuel and Iron company on one side, and the Rainey mine, whose shaft is on the other side of the mountain four miles from the burning mine.

Boston Record Asked.

Boston, Jan. 14.—Two petitions asking records of the votes cast in Tuesday's election, by which former Mayor John R. Fitzgerald was apparently elected mayor for four years by a plurality of 1,415 over James J. Storrow, his nearest opponent, were filed with the election commissioners today. The record will probably be held next week.

Shot by a Woman.

Enid, Okla., Jan. 14.—Shot in the breast by the inmate of a Second street resort, Henry Carr, formerly of Wellington, Kan., was seriously wounded early this morning. Jennie Cowan was placed under arrest. The shooting is the culmination of a night's carousal.

COMMISSIONER'S RATE HEARING

GENERAL AUDITOR SEELIG OF THE KATY ON STAND YESTERDAY.

CROSS-EXAMINED BY WEST

Commissioner Watson After Facts and Declares He Is Going to Go Them If There Is Any Chance

Guthrie, Okla., Jan. 14.—When W. L. Seeling of St. Louis, general auditor of the Katy Railroad, took the witness stand in the Corporation Commission's freight rate hearing today he was questioned by Commissioner Watson as to an alleged agreement between representatives of various lines represented here concerning testimony given at the hearing yesterday. The commission had cited several roads for contempt, for failure to comply with its accounting order. Railroad representatives testified they could not furnish the information called for in the commission's blanks, and then make oath to its accuracy since some of the earning divisions between State and interstate business would have to be arbitrarily made. The case against the Katy was dismissed upon promise of Auditor Seeling to furnish the information.

According to Commissioner Watson, it was reported to the commission this morning that following yesterday's hearing, there was considerable criticism in the hotel lobbies last night for what was termed a violation of an agreement about the character of the testimony to be given.

Auditor Seeling disclaimed knowledge of an agreement, saying that he did on yesterday what he thought was best, and that if the other representatives were inclined to criticize him, the matter was beyond his control. "What the commission wants are the facts," said Commissioner Watson, "and we are going to get them if there is a way."

The railroads deny that an agreement was made with the view to giving false testimony.

Auditor Seeling was on the stand most of the day under cross-examination by Attorney General West concerning the eleven commodity rate orders. He stated that the capitalization for the Katy in Oklahoma was about $55,000 per mile, par value would not exceed $50,000 per mile.

The bonds representing the indebtedness, he said, were $40,000 and the stocks $24,400 per mile. The Attorney General then produced a statement filed with the State Tax Board by the Katy's engineers showing that the estimated cost of replacing value in Oklahoma averaged $16,400 per mile.

The same figures, Auditor Seeling said, would apply to the line in other states. When asked how he accounted for the difference between the market value of the road and the replacement value, as shown by the engineers' return, the auditor stated it was due principally to reorganization of the property when it was taken from under a receivership years ago. He said that the thought the road would sell for $50,000 per mile.

Fairbanks in Turkey.

Constantinople, Jan. 14.—A reception was held in the American embassy here this afternoon in honor of former vice president Fairbanks and Mrs. Fairbanks. The function was largely attended by American residents in Constantinople. Mr. and Mrs. Fairbanks will leave for Athens next Tuesday.

Opium Is Seized.

San Francisco, Jan. 14.—Opium valued at $4,000 was seized today by customs inspectors on the Pacific liner Siberia, which arrived yesterday from the Orient. The drug was contained in 240 five-ounce tins. This seizure brings the valuation of opium confiscated at Pacific coast points within the last ten days to $7,000.

GIVES CREDIT TO BALLINGER

IN HIS CONVERSATION MESSAGE PRESIDENT TAFT IGNORES PINCHOT.

$30,000,000 FOR SETTLERS

Recommends the Continuation of Irrigation Projects in Semi-Arid Sections—Approves Water Plans.

Washington, Jan. 14.—In a message full of specific suggestions President Taft today put up to congress the question of enacting laws designed to amply safeguard the National resources. The message made practically no reference to the recent upheavals growing out of the Ballinger-Pinchot controversy, ignores the former Chief Forester entirely and gives all credit for the conservation recommendations of the message to Secretary Ballinger of the Interior Department. He says his recommendations are "really an epitome of the recommendations of the Secretary of the Interior in respect to the future conservation of the public domain in his present annual report."

Recommendations Made by Taft.
The recommendations, as discussed in the President's message, are: For the conservation of public lands; for the safeguarding of power sites along rivers in the public domain; for the validating of the withdrawals from entry made by the Secretary of the Interior under such disputed authority as he now possesses; for a detailed classification of public lands according to their use; for the disposition of the agricultural and mineral resources of the same portions of the public lands separately; for the rapid completion of the reclamation projects which are now under way; for a $30,000,000 bond issue to finish and extend these reclamation projects; for the extension of the activities of the forest service; for the conservation of the soil and or the carrying out of inland waterway improvements on an extensive scale.

Bills Drafted by Ballinger.
President Taft inform Congress that the foregoing recommendations are embodied in bills which Secretary Ballinger has drafted and which are at the disposal of congress.

Outlook in Congress.
It is presumed that congress will promptly act on the recommendations

which the president makes. If it shows no disposition to act at this session the president can easily hurry action by simply calling attention to the inactivity. If congress should act promptly, but at the same time legislate in such a manner as to fail to give ample protection, the president will still be in a position to avert evil by voting insincere legislation. So the friends of the conservation movement hope that if the president stands firm and the public keeps a watchful eye on congress the American conservation movement, which up to this point has been one principally of educating the country, will find consummation in this session of congress.

The message is generally commended and an eagerness exists among congressmen friendly to the conservation movement to study the bills which Secretary Ballinger has drafted to carry out this important step forward.

Text of President Taft's Special Message.

President Taft's special message on conservation of natural resources sent to congress is as follows:

To the Senate and the House of Representatives: In my annual message, I reserved the subject of the conservation of our natural resources for consideration in a special message, as follows:

"In several departments there is presented the necessity for legislation looking to the further conservation of our National resources, and the subject is one of such importance as to require a more detailed and extended discussion than can be entered upon in this communication. For this reason I shall take an early opportunity to send a special message."

Anadarko Okla Jan 13.—News that a warrant for the arrest of E.
W. McConnell, until recently a sewing machine agent here, is the request of Mrs. Lulu Berry, mother of two children who sold her 160-acre farm and left here about the time of McConnell's departure for Kansas City in the closing chapter in the story of the courtship of the couple here until the departure two weeks ago.
McConnell went to visit at his father's home last February. He became a warm admirer of Mrs. Berry and he friendship grew so intimate that McConnell borrowed money of the charming widow during a period of financial distress according to her story
It was understood generally that the couple would be married in the spring
Then came the selling of the 160-acre farm and the widow's trip with her two small children to Kansas City. She stopped at the metropolis with her children. McConnell visiting her in the hotel parlor daily
With the exhausting of McConnell's funds $500 more in cash was lent according to her story to R. D. Garrett's assistant county prosecutor there
Two large diamonds were taken in charge by McConnell. He was to have them reset as a present to her.
With the disappearance of the money the diamonds and McConnell, the warrant charging the embezzlement of the rings was sworn out.

Houses Wanted.
Ada is not growing as fast as she ought on account of the fact that there are no vacant houses for rent and few being built for that purpose.
Must the city cease spreading and climbing because there are no tenant houses such houses bring good returns on the investments and there should be at least 50 more residences constructed in this month. Come

RHEUMATIC FOLKS.
Are You Sure Your Kidneys Are Well?
Many rheumatic attacks are due to uric acid in the blood. But the duty of the kidneys is to remove all uric acid from the blood. Its presence there shows the kidneys are inactive.
Don't dally with uric acid solvents. You might get on till doomsday with them but until you cure the kidneys you will never get well.
Doan's Kidney Pills not only remove uric acid but cure the kidneys and then all danger from uric acid is ended.
S. D. Gates Rock Island road Holdenville Okla. says. A few years ago I suffered almost constantly from a dull pain over my left kidney extending at times into my loin. The doctor said the trouble was sciatica but he seemed unable to relieve me. I also had considerable trouble from too frequent and profuse passages of the kidney secretions. Relieving that I was in need of a kidney remedy and having heard Doan's Kidney Pills highly recommended I procured a box. I had not taken many doses before I noticed that the pain in my back was leaving me.
Thus encouraged I continued the use of Doan's Kidney Pills until I was restored to good health.

PLENTY TO ADVISE.
Balky Horse Starts in Good Shape
When He Does Start.
One horse of a team hitched to a
loaded wagon on Broadway this afternoon balked refusing absolutely to budge one single foot—crowd-
and for several minutes kept a crowd of sightseers busily handing out advice to the driver as to how to manage the stubborn animal. One
fellow was beside the horse with a whip. A lawyer yelled at him to whip him on the hip and another advised slap him in the face. A mixture of these suggestions started the horse and he ore down the street with a moan similar to that employed when the harness is removed and he is turned in the pasture.

will not interfere with your work or occupation. Just send me your name and address. Tell me how you suffer. If you wish and I will send you the treatment for your cure entirely free in plain wrapper, by return mail. I will also send you free of cost my book—WOMAN'S FRIEND—With explanatory illustrations showing how women suffer and how they can easily cure themselves at home. Every woman should have it, and learn to think for herself. Then when the doctor says—
"You must have an operation" you can decide for yourself. Thousands of women have cured themselves with my home remedy. It cures all at once. I desire to explain a simple home treatment which speedily and effectually cures Leucorrhoea. Green Stomach and Painful or Irregular Menstruation in young Ladies. Plumpness and health always results from its use.
Wherever you live, I can refer you to ladies of your own locality who know and will gladly tell you sufferer that this home treatment really cures all women's diseases and makes women well strong, plump and robust. Just send me your address, and the free ten day treatment is yours. Also the book "Write to-day, as you may not see this offer again." Address

The city has again been called upon to mourn a death this time Mary Grace, four years old, the little daughter of Mr and Mrs S S McDonald, who left this world shortly after one o'clock this afternoon. For four weeks Mary Grace suffered, but not until Tuesday did her condition become alarming, at which time the illness developed into spinal meningitis and the best medical skill was unavailing Being of the sweetest disposition she was the pet of everyone who knew her, and the bereaved family has the deepest sympathy of a multitude of friends The funeral service will be conducted tomorrow afternoon at 2 30 at the First Methodist church by Rev W M. Wilson and the body will be interred in Rosedale cemetery

FLED FROM ZELAYA'S MEN.

A Gunner Back to Oklahoma Tells of Pursuit Through Swamps.

Oklahoma City, Okla., Jan. 14—The story of a 15-mile fight through the swamps of the eastern part of Nicaragua, pursued by a posse of President Zelaya's officers and his escape on a boat which he confiscated on the shore, is told here by Carroll E Williams, a former gunner in the United States navy He was charged with intrigue with the insurgents a crime that meant sure death

"Zelaya's officers pursued me through the swamps all night, but I made good time for I knew the country," says Williams The traveling was bad, which accounted for their failure to apprehend me and that is all that saved my life On the coast I took a small boat and put out to sea, taking chances with the whales and sharks but after a few hours a schooner picked me up and took me to Pucnos Arries From there I sailed for the United States Williams was in the lumber business in Nicaragua He left about $50,000 worth of assets here.

Cohen Arraigned.

Philadelphia, Jan 14—No testimony except the bare statement of one of the detectives who brought Roberta De Janon and Frederic Cohen back from Chicago was produced at the magistrate's hearing here today when the waiter was arraigned on the charge of kidnapping the young heiress At the request of counsel retained by Robert Buist the girl's millionaire grandfather, the prisoner was then committed to prison without bail for a further hearing two weeks from today

A young lawyer employed by Mrs. Cohen to represent her husband made an effort to secure the man's discharge urging that no evidence had been produced against him He protested vigorously at the postponement of the hearing and at its conclusion secured a writ of habeas corpus from the court of quarter sessions The writ was made returnable next Monday Miss De Janon is still in St Agnes hospital where she was taken last night and did not appear at the hearing of her companion.

sage to congress on the subject of the improvement of our waterways; upon the reclamation and irrigation of arid, semi-arid and swamp lands; upon the preservation of our forests and the reforesting of suitable areas; upon the reclassification of the public domain with a view of separating from agricultural settlement, mineral, coal and phosphorous lands and sites belonging to the government bordering on streams suitable for the utilization of waterpower."

Public Domain in 1860.
In 1860 we had a public domain of 1,055,911,238 acres. We have now 731,374,081 acres, confined largely to mountain ranges and semi-arid and arid plains. We have in addition 368,035,975 acres of land in Alaska.
The public lands were during the earliest administrations treated as a National asset for the liquidation of the public debt and as a source of reward for our soldiers and sailors. Later on they were donated in large amounts in aid of the construction of wagon roads and railways in order to open up regions in the West then almost inaccessible. All the principal land statutes were enacted more than a quarter of a century ago. The homestead act, the pre-emption and timber culture act, the coal land and the mining acts were among these.
The rapid disposition of the public lands under the early statutes and the lax methods of distribution prevailing, due, I think, to the belief that the lands should rapidly pass into private ownership, give rise to the impression that the public domain was legitimate prey for the unscrupulous and that it was not contrary to good morals to circumvent the land laws.

Fraudulent Land Deals.
This prodigal manner of disposition resulted in the passing of large areas of valuable land and many of our National resources into the hands of persons who felt little or no responsibility for promoting the National welfare through their development. The truth is that title to millions of acres of public lands was fraudulently obtained and that the right to recover a large part of such lands for the government long since ceased by reason of statutes of limitation.
There has developed in recent years a deep concern in the public mind respecting the preservation and proper use of our natural resources. This has been particularly directed toward the conservation of the resources on the public domain.
The problem is how to save and how to utilize, how to conserve and still to develop, for no sane person can contend that it is for the common good that nature's blessing are only for unborn generations.

POKER AND JURISPRUDENCE

Prisoner Who Passed Is Called by the Judge—Two Years.

San Antonio, Tex., Jan. 17.—Poker and jurisprudence met in fine repartee and Willie Griffin got the worst of it. Willie, an ebony-hued citizen of the dolce-far-niente type had pleaded guilty to a charge of burglary and Judge Dwyer of the Thirty-Seventh District Court had just made the wholly superfluous remark that Willie could state whatever reason there might be why sentence should not be passed upon him. For a few seconds Willie was at a loss for an answer. The situation called for a set of ideas perhaps entirely new to his gray matter. But Willie knew of an expression in poker that seemed to fit the emergency. "Ledge," he said scratching his head, "I reckon I passes." Judge Dwyer not wholly innocent of the game himself suppressed a smile. "I will call you," he said "and give you two years."

Willie acknowledged that he didn't hold anything as good as the Judge, and accompanied Deputy Sheriff Joe Dwyer most willingly to the nether regions. "I don't nothin' about dat callin' business, but dat ledge sho did tell me ter go to de pen for two whole long years, 'ee plum glad be didn't raise me."

Hot Cross Buns.

A quarter-cup butter, a quarter-cup sugar, a quarter-teaspoonful salt, one cup milk, one yeast cake dissolved in quarter-cup lukewarm water; add sufficient flour to make a stiff batter and beat well; let rise over night and in morning add half-teaspoonful cinnamon, quarter-teaspoonful nutmeg, two beaten eggs, half-cup raisins; knead until elastic; let rise, mold, rise and bake; make cross of icing on buns.

Turkish Candy.

Cook together until it threads when dropped into cold water, two cupfuls granulated sugar, one-half cupful corn sirup and one-half cupful of hot water. When it reaches the thread stage pour over the beaten whites of two eggs and beat until it commences to grain. Add any kind of nut meats, pour into greased square pans and cut in squares when cool, or make into a loaf, and slice.

Baked Tomatoes.

Out out centers of tomatoes, chop with a few bread crumbs, add celery enough to flavor, also a little parsley, butter, salt, pepper. Fry two slices bacon brown and cut in small pieces and add. Fill tomatoes and place in baking pan with bits of butter. Bake slowly one-half hour. Fine served with fish or game.

Baked Canned Corn.

Take a can of corn, divide it in two layers, putting cracker crumbs and bits of butter between each layer. Cover the corn with a pint of milk and bake half an hour.

Sugar Help.

A vanilla bean kept in the sugar box will impart a delicious flavor to the sugar.

For Millionaires Only

"Now I knew in a general way that in order to put money in a bank you've got to be known and give your pedigree and look respectable and all that, and I hated to approach a bank without any sort of credentials. Therefore I went to the business manager of a certain magazine which occasionally prints pieces that I write and asked him what I'd better do."

"That sounded fine to me. He wrote me the note and I started for the bank a good deal tickled over how easy the little depositing proceeding had been made."

"The bank to which I had the note is in Wall street. I asked the uniformed man who was standing around where I'd find the receiving teller's window, and he pointed that window out to me. I got into line and watched the teller take in money."

"I must own that I was a bit stalled to note the great size of some of the deposits he was receiving. Why, fellows were giving the money to him by the satchelful. But I had my note in my pocket, and I remained complacent enough with that consciousness."

"When I reached the receiving teller I passed in my note, and the receiving teller, a decidedly civil young man, opened it and read it. Then he looked at me, after which he read the note again, this time with a sort of puzzled expression on his countenance. I didn't see why the receiving teller should be puzzled over such a simple matter. But puzzled he seemed. He rang a bell and the uniformed man who'd directed me to that window appeared."

"Show this gentleman to the office of the cashier," said the receiving teller to the uniformed man, at the same time regarding me with a pleasant smile; and the uniformed man led me down the passageway and took me behind a railing where there was a handsome gray-haired gentleman sitting at a desk.

"The handsome gray-haired gentleman received me cordially and invited me to be seated. I handed him my note, which the receiving teller had returned to me; and he leaned back in his chair and read it carefully. Then he, too, looked puzzled after he'd read the note a second time. Then he looked at me pleasantly over the tops of his spectacles."

"Ahem!" said the handsome gray-haired gentleman, not disagreeably, but in a nice, bankerlike way. "Might I—er—inquire, Mr. Penphist, without seeming to be unduly inquisitive, as to how—er—large a—er—balance you would usually be carrying?"

"Well, that was a civil enough question—nothing inquisitive about it. 'Why, sir,' I said to the handsome gray-haired gentleman, 'I am opening an account with a—er—matter of some $350, but I shall no doubt make some additions to that within the next few months, and probably I shall carry a balance of—well, say, $500 or $800 right along.'"

"The kindly cashier with the gray hair fairly beamed upon me. 'Er—just so, just so,' said he twiddling his thumbs. 'We feel complimented, Mr. Penphist, we really do, that you should have come to us. And it is unfortunate—er—really—unfortunate that we are so utterly lacking in facilities for taking care of accounts of such a character.'"

"You see, Mr. Penphist, our institution is of—er—a sort of special character. It is used as a depository by— Well, perhaps I should put it in a more clear manner. I say to you quite in confidence, you understand, Mr. Penphist, but we have only 1,600 depositors on our books, and these 1,600 depositors' aggregate balances amount all the time to a matter of one hundred and ten millions of dollars."

"Well, that was about enough. I saw the light then. I'd drifted into a millionaire's bank on the careless credentials of a business manager who'd written me that note no doubt in a thoughtless mood."

"The gray-haired cashier acted bully about it. He recommended a fine bank to me—one that combines perfect responsibility with the necessary facilities for handling accounts like—er—yours, Mr. Penphist," he added.

"For all the cashier's niceness I walked out of there into the cold gray light of Wall street feeling like a good deal of a human caterpillar."

SENSATIONAL COTTON DECLINE

DROP OF $5.20 A BALE IN NEW YORK BY ROUTING OF THE BULLS.

RALLY DELAYED TILL LATE

Quiet Market Is Expected for the Coming Week and Prices Expected to be More Generally Influenced.

New York Jan. 14.—The big bull campaign in cotton definitely collapsed today, the most spectacular decline seen in a week of erratic recessions. Reports freely circulated in the trade, after the close of the market, that the position of the leading southern bull has been completely undermined by the continued liquidation which has been in progress since early in the year. At the low point today New York contracts showed a decline of from $5.20 to $5.60 a bale from the closing prices of the night previous, which was a break of from $6.10 to $6.50 a bale from the high price of the day and $13.35 to $14.25 a bale from the high point of the season. May contracts touched 13.70c late in the afternoon.

Make Elaborate Gifts.
The bull market has lasted for over a year. At the height of the campaign it was estimated that E. G. Scates of Texas, the leader, had accumulated paper profits of $10,000,000 for the season. As a Christmas present, he is said to have given $10,000 to one of his favorite brokers and another accepted story has it that he had given a million dollars in cash to one of his brothers. His heaviest holdings were in May cotton and his friends were generally believed at one time to control contracts calling for the delivery of fully 1,000,000 bales during that month.

Time Ripe for Raid.
The situation had developed before the beginning of the decline into a threat of the greatest squeeze of shorts ever recorded. But other bulls who had followed Mr. Scates had decided the time was ripe for a bear raid.

One after another the big accounts

began to come into the market. The Scates party was said to have its cotton margined down to 10 cents a pound, and it was confidently asserted that its members would never abandon their position.

The facts have proven, however, that the continued pressure was too heavy. Today it was announced Mr. Scates was transferring his holdings to the leading bear interests. Smaller operators were hard nipped, but it is believed the larger bulls liquidated above their average buying price for the season.

Rally Comes Late.
As soon as the news spread that an agreement had been reached between the conflicting interests, the market received aggressive support closing at from 26 to 30 points up for the low mark today.

A better feeling prevailed in the trade tonight and it is thought that a quiet market may be expected for the coming week with prices more generally influenced by legitimate demand and support.

After the official close May contracts changed hands at 14.10c compared with 13.70c, the low point of the day. The mark at which the bulls were said to have taken the bull holdings is 13.12c for May.

Miners Narrowly Escape.

Trinidad, Colo., Jan. 14.—Fire, starting from a match dropped in the straw of the mule stable cut off three hundred miners from the shaft of No. 3 mine of the Colorado Fuel and Iron company today. Before the men could be warned the shaft was choked with smoke but all the miners escaped safely through the connecting workings of the No. 1 mine of the Colorado Fuel and Iron company on one side and the Rainey mine whose shaft is on the other side of the mountain four miles from the burning mine.

Boston Account Asked.

Boston, Jan. 14.—Two petitions asking recounts of the votes cast in Tuesday's election, by which former Mayor John F. Fitzgerald was apparently elected mayor for four years by a plurality of 1,415 over James J. Storrow, his nearest opponent, were filed with the election commissioners today. The recount will probably be held next week.

Shot by a Woman.

Enid, Okla., Jan. 14.—Shot in the breast by the inmate of a second street resort, Henry Carr, formerly of Wellington, Kan., was seriously wounded early this morning. Jennie Cowan was placed under arrest. The shooting is the culmination of a night's carousal.

COMMISSIONER'S RATE HEARING

GENERAL AUDITOR SEELIG OF THE KATY ON STAND YESTERDAY.

CROSS-EXAMINED BY WEST

Commissioner Watson After Facts and Declares He Is Going to Get Them If There Is Any Chance

Guthrie, Okla., Jan. 14.—When W. L. Seelig of St. Louis, general auditor of the Katy Railroad, took the witness stand in the Corporation Commission's freight rate hearing today he was questioned by Commissioner Watson as to an alleged agreement between representatives of various lines represented here concerning testimony given at the hearing yesterday. The commission had cited several roads for contempt, for failure to comply with its accounting order. Railroad representatives testified they could not furnish the information called for in the commission's blanks and then make oath to its accuracy since some of the earning divisions between State and interstate business would have to be arbitrarily made. The case against the Katy was dismissed upon promise of Auditor Seelig to furnish the information.

According to Commissioner Watson it was reported to the commission this morning that following yesterday's hearing there was considerable criticism in the hotel lobbies last night for what was termed a violation of an agreement about the character of the testimony to be given.

Auditor Seelig disclaimed knowledge of an agreement, saying that he did on yesterday what he thought was best, and that if the other representatives were inclined to criticize him, the matter was beyond his control. What the commission wants are the facts, said Commissioner Watson, and we are going to get them if there is a way.

The railroads deny that an agreement was made with the view to giving false testimony.

Auditor Seelig was on the stand most of the day under cross-examination by Attorney General West concerning the eleven commodity rate orders. He stated that the capitalization for the Katy in Oklahoma was about $65,000 per mile, par value would not exceed $50,000 per mile. The bonds representing the indebtedness he said were $40,600 and the stocks $24,400 per mile. The Attorney General then produced a statement filed with the State Tax Board by the Katy's engineers showing that the estimated cost of replacing value in Oklahoma averaged $16,400 per mile.

The same figures Auditor Seelig said, would apply to the line in other states. When asked how he accounted for the difference between the market value of the road and the replacement value as shown by the engineers' return, the auditor stated it was due principally to reorganization of the property when it was taken from under a receivership years ago. He said that the thought the road would sell for $50,000 per mile.

Fairbanks in Turkey.

Constantinople, Jan. 14.—A reception was held in the American embassy here this afternoon in honor of former vice president Fairbanks and Mrs. Fairbanks. The function was largely attended by American residents in Constantinople. Mr. and Mrs. Fairbanks will leave for Athens next Tuesday.

Opium Is Seized.

San Francisco, Jan. 14.—Opium valued at $4,000 was seized today by customs inspectors on the Pacific liner Siberia, which arrived yesterday from the Orient. The drug was contained in 140 five-ounce tins. This seizure brings the valuation of opium confiscated at Pacific coast points within the last six days to $7,000.

GIVES CREDIT TO BALLINGER

IN HIS CONVERSATION MESSAGE PRESIDENT TAFT IGNORES PINCHOT.

$30,000,000 FOR SETTLERS

Recommends the Continuation of Irrigation Projects in Semi-Arid Sections—Approves Water Plans.

Washington, Jan. 14.—In a message full of specific suggestions President Taft today put up to congress the question of enacting laws designed to amply safeguard the National resources. The message made practically no reference to the recent upheavals growing out of the Ballinger-Pinchot controversy, ignores the former Chief Forester entirely and gives all credit for the conservation recommendations of the message to Secretary Ballinger of the Interior Department. He says his recommendations are really an epitome of the recommendations of the Secretary of the Interior in respect to the future conservation of the public domain in his present annual report.

Recommendations Made by Taft.
The recommendations, as discussed in the President's message are for the conservation of public lands, for the safeguarding of power sites along rivers in the public domain, for the validating of the withdrawals from entry made by the Secretary of the Interior under such disputed authority as he now possesses, for a detailed classification of public lands according to their use for the disposition of the agricultural and mineral resources of the same portions of the public lands separately, for the rapid completion of the reclamation projects which are now under way for a $30,000,000 bond issue to finish and extend these reclamation projects for the extension of the activities of the forest service for the conservation of the soil and for the carrying out of inland waterway improvements on an extensive scale.

Bills Drafted by Ballinger.
President Taft inform Congress that the foregoing recommendations are embodied in bills which Secretary Ballinger has drafted and which are at the disposal of congress.

Outlook in Congress.
It is presumed that congress will promptly act on the recommendations.

A WORD OF WARNING

There are a lot of harmful tooth pastes and powders on the market full of grit and acid and other impurities. These preparations are not only worthless, but harmful, and injure the teeth and gums.

Toilets

Antiseptic Tooth Powder

is the one dental preparation that we can recommend to you. It is absolutely pure—nothing injurious in it—and what is just as important, it is entirely effective. It destroys all the germs of decay, keeps the mouth clean, the breath pure and sweet, and ensures beautiful white teeth.

which the president makes. If it shows no disposition to act at his session on the president can easily hurry action by simply calling attention to the inactivity. If congress should act promptly but at the same time legislate in such a manner as to fail to give ample protection the president will still be in a position to avert evil by voting insincere legislation. So the friends of the conservation movement hope that if the president stands firm and the public keeps a watchful eye on congress the American conservation movement which up to his point has been one principally of educating the country, will find consummation in this session of congress.

The message is generally commended and an eagerness exists among congressmen friendly to the conservation movement to study the bills which Secretary Ballinger has drafted to carry out this important step forward.

Text of President Taft's Special Message.

President Taft's special message on conservation of natural resources sent to congress is as follows:

To the Senate and the House of Representatives: In my annual message I reserved the subject of the conservation of our natural resources for consideration in a special message as follows:

In several departments there is presented the necessity for legislation looking to the further conservation of our National resources and the subject is one of such importance as to require a more detailed and extended discussion than can be entered upon in this communication. For this reason I shall take an early opportunity to send a special message.

FLED FROM ZELAYA'S MEN.

A Gunner Back to Oklahoma Tells of Pursuit Through Swamps.

Oklahoma City, Okla., Jan. 14—The story of a 15-mile fight through the swamps of the eastern part of Nicaragua, pursued by a posse of President Zelayas officers and his escape on a boat which he confessed on the shore, is told here by Carroll E Williams, a former gunner in the United States navy He was charged with intrigue with the insurgents a crime that meant sure death
Zelayas officers pursued me through the swamps all night, but I made good time for I knew the country, says Williams The traveling was bad, which accounted for their failure to apprehend me and that is all that saved my life On the coast I took a small boat and put out to sea, taking chances with the waves and sharks but after a few hours a schooner picked me up and took me to Puerto Ayres From there I alled for the United States
Williams was in the lumber business in Nicaragua He left about $50,000 worth of assets here.

sage to congress on the subject of the improvement of our waterways; upon the reclamation and irrigation of arid, semi-arid and swamp lands; upon the preservation of our forests and the reforesting of suitable areas, upon the reclassification of the public domain with a view of separating from agricultural settlement, mineral, coal and phosphorous lands and sites belonging to the government bordering on streams suitable for the utilization of waterpower.

Public Domain in 1860.

In 1860 we had a public domain of 1,055,911,288 acres. We have now 731,374,061 acres, confined largely to mountain ranges and semi-arid and arid plains. We have in addition 368,035,975 acres of land in Alaska.

The public lands were during the earliest administrations treated as a National asset for the liquidation of the public debt and as a source of reward for our soldiers and sailors. Later on they were donated in large amounts in aid of the construction of wagon roads and railways in order to open up regions in the West then almost inaccessible. All the principal land statutes were enacted more than a quarter of a century ago. The homestead act, the pre-emption and timber culture act, the coal land and the mining acts were among these.

The rapid disposition of the public lands under the early statutes and the lax methods of distribution prevailing, due, I think, to the belief that the lands should rapidly pass into private ownership, give rise to the impression that the public domain was legitimate prey for the unscrupulous and that it was not contrary to good morals to circumvent the land laws.

Fraudulent Land Deals.

This prodigal manner of disposition resulted in the passing of large areas of valuable land and many of our National resources into the hands of persons who felt it to be or no responsibility for promoting the National welfare through their development. The truth is that title to millions of acres of public lands was fraudulently obtained and that the right to recover a large part of such lands for the government long since ceased by reason of statutes of limitation.

There has developed in recent years a deep concern in the public mind respecting the preservation and proper use of our natural resources. This has been particularly directed toward the conservation of the resources on the public domain.

The problem is how to save and how to utilize, how to conserve and still to develop, for no sane person can contend that it is for the common good that nature's blessing are only for unborn generations.

POKER AND JURISPRUDENCE.

Prisoner Who Passed Is Called by the Judge—Two Years.

San Antonio, Tex., Jan. 17.—Poker and jurisprudence met in fine reparation and Willie Griffin got the worst of it. Willie, an ebony-bued citizen of the choice-far-nient type had pleaded guilty to a charge of burglary and Judge Dwyer of the Thirty-Seventh District Court had just made the wholly superfluous remark that Willie could state whatever reason there might be why sentence should not be passed upon him. For a few seconds Willie was at a loss for an answer. The situation called for a set of ideas perhaps entirely new to his gray matter. But Willie knew of an expression in poker that seemed to fit the emergency. "Jedge," he said scratching his head, "I reckon I passes." Judge Dwyer not wholly innocent of the game himself suppressed a smile. "I will call you," he said "and give you two years."

Willie acknowledged that he didn't hold anything as good as the Judge, and accompanied Deputy Sheriff Joe Dwyer most willingly to the nether regions.

"I don't nothin' about dat callin' business, but dat jedge sho did tell me ter go to de pen for two whole long yeahs, I see plum glad he didn't raise me."

Hot Cross Buns.

A quarter-cup butter, a quarter-cup sugar, a quarter-teaspoonful salt, one cup milk, one yeast cake dissolved in quarter-cup lukewarm water; add sufficient flour to make a stiff batter and beat well; let rise over night and in morning add half-teaspoonful cinnamon, quarter-teaspoonful nutmeg, two beaten eggs, half-cup raisins; knead until elastic; let rise, mold, rise and bake; make cross of icing on buns.

Turkish Candy.

Cook together until it threads when dropped into cold water, two cupfuls granulated sugar, one-half cupful corn sirup and one-half cupful of hot water. When it reaches the thread stage pour over the beaten whites of two eggs and beat until it commences to grain. Add any kind of nut meats, pour into greased square pans and cut in squares when cool, or make into a loaf, and slice.

Baked Tomatoes.

Cut out centers of tomatoes, chop with a few bread crumbs, add celery enough to flavor, also a little parsley, butter, salt, pepper. Fry two slices bacon brown and cut in small pieces and add. Fill tomatoes and place in baking pan with bits of butter. Bake slowly one-half hour. Fine served with fish or game.

Baked Canned Corn.

Take a can of corn, divide it in two layers, putting cracker crumbs and bits of butter between each layer. Cover the corn with a pint of milk and bake half an hour.

Sugar Help.

A vanilla bean kept in the sugar box will impart a delicious flavor to the sugar.

For Millionaires Only

"Now I knew in a general way that in order to put money in a bank you've got to be known and give your pedigree and look respectable and all that, and I hated to approach a bank without any sort of credentials. Therefore I went to the business manager of a certain magazine which occasionally prints pieces that I write and asked him what I'd better do."

"Simplest thing in the world," said he. "I'll give you a note to our bank." "That sounded fine to me. He wrote me the note and I started for the bank a good deal tickled over how easy the little depositing proceeding had been made."

"The bank to which I had the note is in Wall street. I asked the uniformed man who was standing around where I'd find the receiving teller's window, and he pointed that window out to me. I got into line and watched the teller take in money."

"I must own that I was a bit stalled to note the great size of some of the deposits he was receiving. Why, fellows were giving the money to him by the satchelful. But I had my note in my pocket, and I remained complacent enough with that consciousness."

"When I reached the receiving teller I passed in my note, and the receiving teller, a decidedly civil young man, opened it and read it. Then he looked at me, after which he read the note again, this time with a sort of puzzled expression on his countenance. I didn't see why the receiving teller should be puzzled over such a simple matter. But puzzled he seemed. He rang a bell and the uniformed man who'd directed me to that window appeared."

"Show this gentleman to the office of the cashier," said the receiving teller to the uniformed man, at the same time regarding me with a pleasant smile; and the uniformed man led me down the passageway and took me behind a railing where there was a handsome gray-haired gentleman sitting at a desk.

"The handsome gray-haired gentleman received me cordially and invited me to be seated. I handed him my note, which the receiving teller had returned to me; and he leaned back in his chair and read it carefully. Then he, too, looked puzzled after he'd read the note a second time. Then he looked at me pleasantly over the tops of his spectacles."

"Ahem!" said the handsome gray-haired gentleman, not disagreeably, but in a nice, bankerlike way. "Might I—er—inquire, Mr. Penphist, without seeming to be unduly inquisitive, as to how—er—large a—er—balance you would usually be carrying?"

"Well, that was a civil enough question—nothing inquisitive about it."

"Why, sir, I said to the handsome gray-haired gentleman, 'I am opening an account with a matter of some $350, but I shall not doubt make some additions to that within the next few months, and probably I shall carry a balance of—well, say, $500 or $600 right along.'"

"The kindly cashier with the gray hair fairly beamed upon me."

"Er—just so, just so," said he twiddling his thumbs. "We feel complimented, Mr. Penphist, we really do, that you should have come to us. And it is unfortunate—er—really—unfortunate that we are so utterly lacking in facilities for taking care of accounts of such a character."

"You see, Mr. Penphist, our institution is of—er—a sort of special character. It is used as a depository by— Well, perhaps I should put it in a more clear manner. I say to you quite in confidence, you understand, Mr. Penphist, but we have only 1,600 depositors on our books, and these 1,600 depositors' aggregate balances amount all the time to a matter of one hundred and ten millions of dollars."

"Well, that was about enough. I saw the light then. I'd drifted into a millionaire's bank on the careless credentials of a business manager who'd written me that note no doubt in a thoughtless mood."

"The gray-haired cashier acted badly about it. He recommended a fine bank to me—one that combines perfect responsibility with the necessary facilities for handling accounts like—er—yours, Mr. Penphist," he added.

"For all the cashier's niceness I walked out of there into the cold gray light of Wall street feeling like a good deal of a human caterpillar."

"I didn't go to the bank recommended to me by the cashier. Didn't have the nerve to visit any more banks. I've got $82 left now of the $350, but I'm going to use that as a nest egg, and maybe some day even yet, I'll have a bank account."

REAL ESTATE and FIRE INSURANCE

Advice

We have recently established in the News Building a REAL ESTATE, INSURANCE and LOAN AGENCY and active and constant attention will be given to all business entrusted to our care. We propose to line up our agency along with the growth and advancement of the city, and we want to make your business acquaintance.

Real Estate

We make a specialty of PUSHING property listed with our agency. We do not make a note of it on a memorandum, and forget it, but use printers ink to promote its early and sure sale. It pays to advertise. We preach that sort of doctrine and practice it as well. Property listed with us will be advertised, and if there is anything doing at all in the real estate transfers we are busy too. We have at the present date some pretty bargains in Ada stuff which you may see advertised in another column of this issue of the News. If you want to sell list with us today.

Insurance

The WEAVER FIRE INSURANCE AGENCY was the first established in Ada, and during these nearly 10 years every claim has been promptly adjusted, to the entire satisfaction of the policy holder. This is not a bad record. This is true because only the best and strongest companies have been represented. Among these are: The Royal, New York Underwriters, the Niagara, and the Phenix. These are as strong as the Rock of Gibraltar. PROMPTNESS is the watch-word. You can make no mistake by selecting any of these to carry your risk.

Loans

We are at present arranging to represent leading loan companies, and expect to be prepared at an early date to take care of applications for loans on city or farm property
